

Places to eat with wheelchair access

All the restaurants and cafés listed below have wheelchair access but very few have disabled toilets so those that do have been annotated accordingly. The list is not exhaustive and places come and go, with changing opening hours depending on the season.

It is possible to eat al fresco at many places and there are plenty of takeaways.

We recommend that you check availability and suitability for your likes and needs and maybe look at reviews on sites such as Trip Advisor. Although one should always be guarded about comments on such sites but they do give an idea of the menu where the eatery does not have its own website.

To provide useful information for other guests, do please feel free to supply your own comments and suggestions in the comments pages at the end of this guide.

Other Local Places to Eat

Talland Bay

About 3 miles out of Looe is a small beach with a café with car parking available either on parts of the road or in private car parks at the two cafes and the hotel.

Talland Bay Hotel - www.tallandbayhotel.co.uk - 01503 272667

Editor's note – A personal favourite in a lovely setting with glorious views out to sea across a garden which has lots of interesting art work and sculptures such as fairies, pixies, animals etc. Restaurant serves quality meals and snacks with outside tables also available; not cheap but you get what you pay for.

Talland Bay Beach Café

Great for sitting outside on nice days next to pebble beach - open 7 days a week mid-March until the end of October– has own car park but charges for use: off the record if you park and then order something from café and then ask if you have to pay for parking they will probably let you off - 01503 272088

Smugglers Rest

Snacks and refreshments al fresco - no access to decked eating area with wheelchair, but extensive grassed area with tables – lovely on a nice day. Evening barbecues when weather is good. Normally open from Easter to October, no website but info on Trip advisor.
